Below, please find tips and ideas that can help you use Istation to its greatest potential!

Teacher Checklist:

- Be sure to check your Priority Report weekly. This report will identify skills students need support with, group students based on need, provide teacher-directed lessons to use in small groups, and allows teachers to document interventions.
- Istation has over 3,000 resources to help you in the classroom! Check out our Teacher Resources for research-based instructional materials like lessons, games, printable books, fluency passages, graphic organizers, and much more!

Manager Checklist:

- Please encourage all of your classes to assess early in December for their MOY benchmark.
  - Be sure to check out your campus's Assessment Completion Report by the 10th day of the month to check your progress.

2019-2020 Early Literacy Assessment Tool (ELAT) Benchmark Windows

Districts must choose a two-week assessment window within the benchmark months to administer the benchmark assessment

- BOY benchmark – Administer the beginning-of-year assessment to grades 1-3 within the first 30 days of the school year and to kindergarten within the first 60 days of the school year. (While choosing your two-week benchmark window, make sure that all students are tested in the same month.)
- MOY benchmark – January
- EOY benchmark – May

Kindergarten consideration: Through a provision in HB15-1323, you may choose to use up to 60 calendar days for initial benchmarking. However, we encourage districts to continue with best practices by benchmarking and providing support early in the year, specifically within the first 30 days. Completion of your BOY assessment (per the READ Act) within the 60 calendar days will inform the literacy component of your readiness assessment.

For campus leaders; however, all are welcome!

Trends give good indicators of where we are going. However, we do not have to let those trendlines be our GPS. We can reroute the path with strong goals and interventions. Join us as we look at the trends and map out our course to finish the year with trendlines targeted for success.
