

December 9th in Denver, CO

Narrative assessment techniques are becoming a most effective way to help clients, students, and employees gain clarity and confidence in designing “what’s next”. Who You Are Matters! is more than a game- it’s a narrative assessment tool that sparks meaningful conversations and helps participants generate promising and inspiring future possibilities.

Become a Who You Are Matters! Facilitator and bring new energy, an engaging game and online storytelling tools to your clients.

Who You Are Matters! Facilitator Training includes:

- Full day of professional development, 9:00am - 4.30pm
Led by Rich Feller, OneLifeTools Co-founder and CSU Professor
- Experience the game and tools yourself, and learn to facilitate a hands-on experience for clients and groups of any size
- Who You Are Matters! game kit ($125 value), including everything you need to facilitate the game (5 players per game)
additional kits available for purchase*
- 20 Guidebooks & 20 Online Storyteller logins ($69 value), helping participants deepen post-game clarification and take inspired action
- Learn more at <http://onlifetools.com/training/>

$395 USD
Register Now!

Go to: <http://onlifetools.com/training/denver-training.html>

“The Who You Are Matters! game helps our students and adult volunteers clarify their next steps, make informed choices and enjoy themselves while engaging in important career development conversations with peers. I’ve already seen big changes for people who participate in this activity.”

-Martha Bradshaw, Who You Are Matters! Facilitator & Manager, Univ. of Texas at Austin- Blanton Museum of Art

On-site training also available:

Save time & money with on-site Professional Development for your staff, advisors, counselors and administrators. Plus, ask us about inviting others in your city to save even more. Includes a Who You Are Matters! game kit and Guidebooks. Contact us at rich.feller@colostate.edu to learn more.

