Part I: Introduction

The State Review Panel (SRP, or the Panel) was created by the Education Accountability Act of 2009 to provide a critical evaluation of the state's lowest performing schools' and districts' plans for dramatic action, and provide recommendations to the Commissioner and the State Board of Education. The SRP's work is informed by a review of documents (e.g., Unified Improvement Plan) and, in some cases, by a site visit. The site visit component was added in 2014 to strengthen the SRP's understanding of the conditions in the schools and districts that are further along on the accountability clock. The expectation is that the site visit will inform their recommendations to the Commissioner and the State Board of Education about required actions at the end of the accountability clock.

What is the Colorado Department of Education SRP site visit?

The SRP site visit is a process that Panelists can use to understand and explain the extent to which schools/districts have the capacity to plan and implement the dramatic change required to exit the accountability clock (i.e., Priority Improvement, Turnaround). The SRP site visit process was designed in partnership with SchoolWorks – an education consulting organization with the mission to build the capacity of educators to advance all aspects of student achievement and well-being. The SRP site visit places a team of experienced educators (including education experts from Colorado) in a school/district for one day to collect and analyze data related to the school's/district's capacity on specific criteria and indicators.

What are the Colorado district and school criteria and indicators?

The SRP site visit is based on the criteria outlined in the Accountability Act of 2009. This includes determining whether:

- Leadership is adequate to implement change;
- Infrastructure is adequate to support school improvement;
- There is readiness and capacity of district, institute, or school's personnel to plan effectively and lead appropriate actions;
- There is readiness and capacity to engage productively with the assistance provided by an external partner;
- There is a likelihood of positive returns on state investments of assistance and support to improve the performance in the current management and staffing; and
- It is necessary that the district, institute, or school remain in operation.

See Part IV for a complete list of the SRP key questions and Part V for their corresponding criteria and indicators. The site visit activities will be aligned to collect evidence in relation to these criteria.

What is the purpose of an SRP site visit?

The purpose of an SRP site visit is to gather on-site evidence on a school's program and operations in the areas outlined in the Education Accountability Act. The site visit builds on the document review process previously conducted by the SRP for each school. The site visit provides the one chance the Panel has to interact with the school to determine capacity and solicit staff and Board input. However, it is just one source of evidence that the Panel considers to better understand where improvement efforts are successful or lagging as recommendations are made to the Commissioner and State Board of Education.

What does the SRP school site visit entail?

The SRP utilizes multiple sources of evidence to understand how well a school is performing related to the six criteria it is charged with examining. It extends beyond standardized measures of student performance and enables Panelists to observe and collect evidence about the effectiveness of the school's processes.

Prior to arriving on site, Panelists conduct a document review aligned to the six key areas in the Education Accountability Act. The results of this review are shared with all members of the site visit team and help inform the team's work during the visit. On site at the school, the site visit team uses evidence collected through classroom observations, focus groups, interviews, and document review to come to consensus on capacity levels in relation to the six key areas. Based on evidence collected on site, the site visit team prepares a written report that it submits to the Commissioner and State Board of Education, which becomes part of a larger body of evidence regarding the school's performance.

The process benefits most from open, frank, professional dialog between the school and the site visit team. The professionalism of the school and team is essential. Both the school staff and the team have clear roles and responsibilities that are designed to promote good rapport and clear communication. All team members are governed by a code of conduct. Honesty, integrity, objectivity, and a focus on the best interests of students are essential.

What are the general steps in the SRP site visit process?

Pre-visit Planning and Analysis

SchoolWorks will provide all school leaders with an orientation on the SRP site visit process. In addition, SchoolWorks will work with each school leader to begin collecting documents that the site visit team will review prior to arriving on site. These key documents include school and teacher schedules, the school's most recent Unified Improvement Plan, curricula and related teaching documents, and professional development records. The purpose of this review is to begin to gather evidence in relation to the protocol's criteria and indicators. The site visit team will also review the results of the SRP's previous document review of the school.

This pre-visit analysis provides the site visit team with initial information about the school's programs and the students it serves. Site visit team members work to organize the schedule for the site visit. Team members review documents and record their initial questions about the school's performance according to protocol standards.

Evidence Gathering On Site and Coming to Consensus on Capacity Levels

While on site, evidence collection continues through additional document reviews, classroom visits, and interviews with key school stakeholders. After collecting evidence, the site visit team meets to confirm, refute, and modify its hypotheses about school performance. The site visit team listens to the school's responses and makes every effort to follow up on evidence that the school indicates the team should collect.

In addition, the team meets with district and school leaders, and – in the case of charter schools – with its Governing Board, to solicit input on which of the required actions represent the best fit for the school community. Input will be collected both orally and/or through the submission of a letter on behalf of the school, in which stakeholders identify the preferred action and the rationale for selecting that action.

Site Visit Report

The site visit team's primary objective is to come to consensus on capacity levels in relation to six key areas identified in the Education Accountability Act. To come to consensus on a set of capacity levels, the team works together to collate and discuss available evidence collected throughout the SRP process. At the end of the SRP site visit, a written report is developed and submitted to the Commissioner and State Board of Education, and then becomes part of a larger body of evidence regarding the school's performance.

Part II: Process and Results

How does the site visit team go about its work?

The site visit team is guided in its work by a code of conduct. Adherence to the code of conduct improves the quality of the site visit because schools do not provide reliable evidence under unnecessary stress. Adherence to the code of conduct also creates a frank, professional tone in which the site visit team and the school may discuss key strengths and areas for improvement.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR REVIEWERS*

1. Carry out work with integrity.

- a. Treat all those you meet with courtesy and sensitivity. Try to minimize stress.
- b. Allay anxiety through mutual respect and valuing opinions. Show an interest in what is said.
- c. Focus attention and questions on topics that will reveal how well students are learning.
- d. Assure confidentiality.

2. Act in the best interests of students and staff.

- a. Do not put students or staff in a position where they may have conflicting loyalties.
- b. Emphasize that students come first and are at the center of the review.
- c. Wherever possible, work to others' convenience.
- d. Be supportive and enabling. Evidence given under undue stress is unreliable.
- e. Under no circumstances, criticize the work of a teacher or others involved with the school.
- f. Classroom visits are confidential. Classroom visits are not evaluations. Individual teachers will not be provided feedback and information will not be shared with any school personnel.
- g. Teacher interviews and focus groups are confidential. Any information reported to the team will remain anonymous in both oral and written reports.
- h. Try to understand what teachers are doing and why. Be supportive.

3. Be objective; base capacity levels on evidence, not opinion.

- a. An individual's perception can be evidence, especially if supported by others' observations.
- b. Capacity levels must be fully supported by evidence, must be defensible and inform the key questions.
- c. Capacity levels must be reliable in that others would make the same finding from the same evidence.
- d. Be prepared to ask questions to establish whether a view is based on opinion or evidence.
- e. Discussion with staff and team members is part of the process to create a fair and secure evidence based on which capacity levels are determined.
- f. If a given piece of evidence is not affecting students' learning or experience, it is then irrelevant.

How does the site visit team come to consensus on capacity levels based on a collection of documents, interviews and classroom visits?

The SRP process is built on four core components that drive the work of the team throughout the site visit.

- The process is criterion-driven. The SRP process is built on a set of criterion and indicators. Throughout the site visit, the site visit team collects evidence through document reviews, interviews, and classroom visits, in relation to each of the criterion and indicators to come to consensus on capacity levels that indicate how well school programs and practices are serving students. The site visit team uses the criterion and indicators during team meetings to identify trends that emerge from the evidence and to come to consensus on capacity levels, including identification of strengths and areas for growth, if appropriate. A criterion-driven process ensures that the work of the site visit team is grounded in the standards. The protocol's criteria also serve as a basis for professional dialogue and reporting.

- The process is an evidence-based system. The capacity levels – which come from document reviews, classroom visits, and interviews – are based on evidence collected during the process. The site visit team builds a base of evidence for each capacity level that would reasonably lead any set of individuals to come to similar conclusions about the school's programs and practices. Moving from evidence to capacity level is a cyclical process that depends on an open exchange of information between the team and the school. While the team is required to address the protocol standards and base all capacity levels on evidence, the process is not mechanical and requires some professional judgment by the site visit team.

- The process is iterative, repeatedly checking on and testing the quality of the capacity level and the evidence that supports them. Site visit team members use a three-step process to move from pieces of evidence to capacity level about the school. First, the team records evidence by reviewing documents, conducting interviews, and visiting classrooms. The team reviews evidence to identify initial trends in the evidence. For example, the team would note a trend if all teachers describe the curriculum in similar ways and if the description matched the documents reviewed by the site visit team. This process is represented in Figure 2.

3. Capacity Levels: Determinations based on evidence and trends and grounded in the protocol criteria.

1. Evidence: Documents, classroom visits, and interviews

2. Trends: Developing themes, based on evidence that is collected. Trends are based on criteria and indicators in the protocol.

- The team uses its professional judgment to come to consensus on capacity levels. To be useful, the site visit team must produce a focused report. Focusing on key strengths and areas for improvement requires discerning only what is important and merits comment. This process is called “data reduction.” Within the protocol, team members use their professional judgment in a process called moderation to distill the key factors that deserve comment from the wealth of evidence available to them. This use of professional judgment is represented in Figure 3.

DETAILED STEPS IN THE PROCESS

How does the site visit team and the school prepare for the site visit?

Below is an overview of the responsibilities of each party. A detailed explanation is available in the following section, Roles and Responsibilities.

1. SchoolWorks communicates with the school to determine site visit dates and introduces school leadership to the SRP site visit protocol.
2. SchoolWorks works with the school to begin establishing a specific schedule for the site visit. The project manager remains available to answer any questions and to work with the school to ensure that documents needed for the SRP are available in a timely manner.
3. SchoolWorks creates a draft schedule of interviews and classroom visits, finalizes the schedule with the school input, and sends a copy of the schedule to the school and members of the team.
4. The school uses the School Task Checklist (see Appendix A) to ensure that all preparation has been completed prior to the site visit.
5. SchoolWorks sends a copy of the protocol, the schedule, classroom visit tool, interview questions, and documents (including the State Review Panel's document review) for pre-visit analysis to the other team members.

What does the process look like when the team is on site?

Time on site moves from a fixed structure designed to ensure good coverage of the school to a more flexible schedule that allows the team to follow up on emerging trends and capacity levels. Since it is not possible to predict what will emerge from the evidence collected, the site visit team requires flexibility to move about the school and observe any aspect of the school without notice. However, as a matter of courtesy and in the spirit of developing and maintaining a good working relationship, the team members work with the school to define as much of the schedule as possible without restricting its ability to pursue important evidence.

On-site review

1. The site visit team reviews documents and conducts interviews and classroom visits in accordance with the visit schedule. The team meets regularly during the visit to share evidence.
2. The site visit team keeps the school leadership informed of the team's progress throughout the visit. This ensures that the school has every opportunity to present evidence to address the team's questions.
3. The site visit team will formulate consensus-based capacity levels that respond to the criteria and indicators in the SRP protocol. This is based on evidence provided to the team during interviews, classroom visits, and document reviews while on site.

Sample Daily Site Visit Schedule

Below is a sample daily schedule. Schedules will vary, depending on the size of the school and the number of team members. The project manager will work to construct a schedule for the site visit, based on schedule documents and guidance provided by school leadership.

Sample Daily Site Visit Schedule

11:30–12:00 PM	Teacher focus groups	Classroom visits
12:00–1:00 PM	Lunch; Mid-day meeting and site visit team debrief

Written Report

1. The site visit team member responsible for completing the written report (the “writer”) gathers all notes and other key evidence that have been collected by the team during the site visit to use in drafting the report.
2. The writer develops a draft report that documents the evidence for the capacity levels. This report provides a written record of the capacity levels.
3. Before it is sent to CDE, all team members provide comments on the draft written report according to pre-established timelines.
4. The site visit report is finalized and submitted to the Commissioner and State Board of Education, and then becomes part of a larger body of evidence regarding the school’s performance.

Part III: Roles and Responsibilities

In order to develop an accurate portrait of a school, all participants have key roles in preparing for, and conducting, the SRP site visit. This section explains the roles and responsibilities of the project manager and/or team leader, team members, and the school. Participants should read this section carefully to learn how to prepare for the site visit.

Project Manager

Roles and responsibilities for the project manager include:

1. Modeling and enforcing the code of conduct
 - Project managers should exhibit the highest professional standards and are responsible for ensuring that their team does so, as well.
2. Coordination with the school
 - Before the visit, the project manager contacts the school to ensure that documents are made available in a timely manner.
 - The school is likely to have questions about the process. The project manager should serve as the contact person to address these questions.
 - The project manager ensures that the school has secured meeting space for the team.
 - The project manager ensures that lunch will be provided (at the team's expense) each day.
3. Coordination of materials and assignment of team members
 - Before the site visit, team members are selected and provided with materials (e.g., SRP site visit protocol, school documents) to review.
 - Once the site visit schedule is established, the project manager assigns team members to conduct interviews and classroom visits.
4. Reporting
 - The project manager provides feedback on the draft of the site visit report in accordance with pre-established timelines, ensuring that the report contains sufficient evidence and reflects the consensus of the team.

Team Members

Success of the visit relies heavily on team members':

1. Adherence to the code of conduct

- Classroom observations are not evaluations. Individual teachers will not be provided feedback and information will not be shared with any school personnel.
- Teacher interviews and focus groups are confidential. Any information reported to the team will remain anonymous. (Note: school/district leaders should not be present during teacher/staff focus groups.)

2. Preparation for the site visit

- Team members review the SRP protocol in its entirety. This is critical because the protocol guides all activities while on site.
- Team members review documents and formulate questions for the initial team meeting prior to arriving on site.
- Team members collaboratively complete a formal document review to be submitted to the project manager prior to arriving on site.

3. Collection of evidence

- Team members complete the site visit schedule according to the SRP protocol.
- Team members secure their evidence in notes and provide all necessary data at each team meeting:
 - Notes and classroom visit forms are completed and organized for end-of-day meetings.
 - All notes are in order and completed in a timely manner for all meetings.

4. Collaborating with others

- Team members actively participate in team meetings and support others' efforts to reach unified capacity levels based on evidence.

5. Facilitation and management of logistics for the site visit days

- Once on site, the team members are responsible for facilitating all team meetings.
- Team members ensure that all interviews and focus groups are attended and go smoothly.

5. Communication with the school while on site

- Team members are responsible for maintaining good channels of communication with the school at all times.

6. Reporting

- The team writer writes the site visit report, ensuring that the report contains sufficient evidence to support the consensus of the team.

Schools and Districts

To be an effective partner in the process, the district and its school(s):

1. Act as essential partners in the site visit process

- The school makes the purpose and process of the review team's visit clear to all faculty and staff.
- The school welcomes the visiting team and recognizes its efforts on behalf of the school and its students.
- The school works with the team to ensure that the visit runs smoothly and that appropriate and adequate access to all brick and mortar and online resources, infrastructure and courses is given.
- The school engages faculty and other stakeholders to reflect on the school's performance.

2. Designate a meeting room

- The team will need a meeting space during the day. The space should allow for confidential meetings and should be available to team members for the full visit.
- To the extent possible, interviews should not be scheduled in this space but planned for elsewhere in the building.

3. Communicate with the team

- School leadership works collaboratively with the team prior to the site visit to ensure that documents are provided in a timely manner and that school staff are aware of the visit and its purposes (See Appendix A).
- School leadership works collaboratively with the team during the site visit to provide any additional documents requested, including the coordination of the stakeholder surveys.
- School leadership maintains good communication with the team throughout the process, honestly expressing concerns and feedback from staff.

Criterion 5.3: Students demonstrate academic progress over time.

- Students demonstrate progress on internal measures linked with the school's promotion or exit standards.
- The performance of student subgroups on state assessments demonstrates that the school is making progress toward eliminating achievement gaps.
- Students meet proficiency and grade-level targets across subjects and grade levels on norm-referenced benchmark assessments and state assessments.
- Matched cohorts of students who score proficient or advanced (or equivalent) on state assessments maintain or improve performance levels across continuous enrollment years.
- The percentage of all students performing at proficient or advanced (or equivalent) on state assessments increases over time.
- Students demonstrate academic growth as measured by value-added or state growth percentile measures.
- Students demonstrate progress toward attaining expected knowledge and skills as measured by interim assessments.

Key Question 6: Need to Serve Students

Is there a necessity that the school remain in operation to serve students?

Criterion 6.1: The school is mission-driven and its mission and vision meet a unique need.

- All stakeholders share an understanding of, and commitment to, the mission and vision.
- School programs reflect the mission and vision.
- The mission and vision guide decisions about teaching and learning.
- The mission and vision meet the needs of an identified student population.

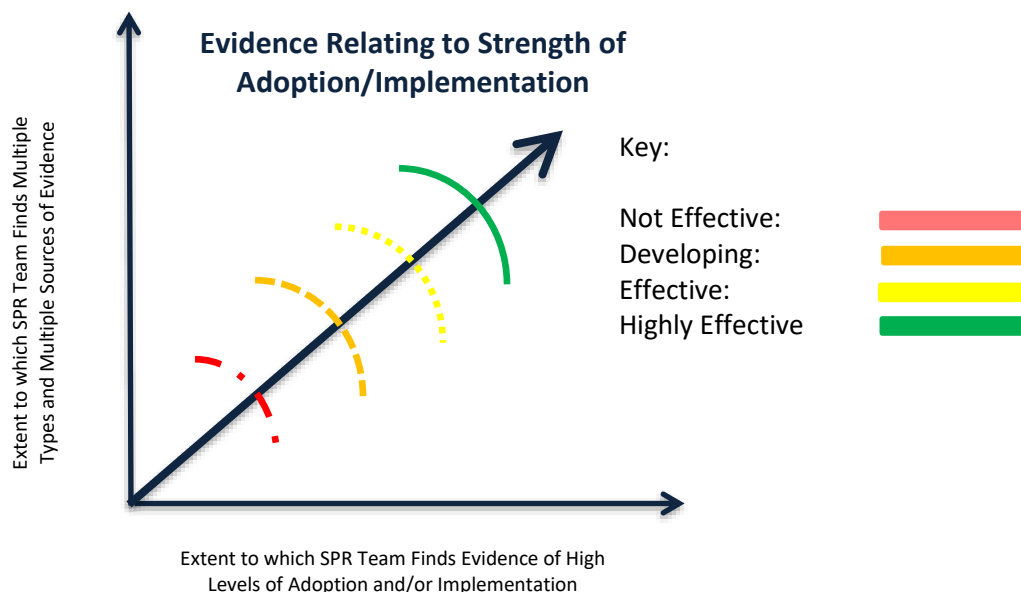

Criterion 6.2: There are no other viable options for enrolled students that will likely lead to better outcomes.

- There are limited other school options available (e.g., online, charter, district).
- The school serves an isolated and/or remote community.
- Closure would have a significant negative impact on the community.
- Comparison schools do not promote better student outcomes.

Part VI: Capacity Level Rubric

The site visit team will use the following guidance to select a capacity level for each key question. Note that the quality standard for each capacity level is based on the extent to which the site visit team finds multiple types¹ and multiple sources² of evidence related to the adoption and/or implementation of a practice or system AND the extent to which the site visit team finds evidence of high levels of adoption and/or implementation of a practice or system.

Capacity Level	Quality Standard
Not Effective	Evidence indicates that the key question is not a practice or system that has been adopted and/or implemented at the school, or that the level of adoption/implementation does not improve the school effectiveness.
Developing	Evidence indicates that the key question is a practice or system that is developing at the school, but that it has not yet been implemented at a level that has begun to improve the school's effectiveness, OR that the impact of the key action on the effectiveness of the school cannot yet be determined.
Effective	Evidence indicates that the key question is a practice or system that has been adopted at the school, and is implemented at a level that has begun to improve the school's effectiveness.
Highly Effective	Evidence indicates that the key question is a practice or system that has been fully adopted at the school, and is implemented at a level that has had a demonstrably positive impact on the school effectiveness.

¹ "Multiple types of evidence" is defined as evidence collected from two or more of the following: document review, stakeholder focus groups and/or interviews; and classroom observations.

² "Multiple sources of evidence" is defined as evidence collected from three or more stakeholder focus groups and/or interviews; two or more documents; and/or evidence that a descriptor was documented in 75% or more of lessons observed at the time of the visit.

If this is not possible, the school should work directly with the Project Manager to determine how documents will be transmitted to the site visit team (either electronically and/or in hard copy). Additionally, if a school has an electronic link to documents or folders, the link can be uploaded to the Portal. Please label links accordingly. All documents should be organized by critical factor. The school can reference the key questions, criteria, and indicators located on pages 17-25 to guide them as they align and organize their supplemental documents. Supplemental documents should include:

Frequently asked questions from school leaders

1. What do we tell staff about the visit?

Staff should know the purpose of the visit and their role within the visit. A first step in communicating these things might be distributing the Introduction, as well as the Process and Results sections (Parts I & II) of the SRP site visit protocol.

2. Space is very tight in our building. We do not have a conference room that can house the team.

The site visit team is made up of educators who understand space constraints. They respect the need to protect instructional space and will adapt to what you can offer. Please focus on trying to provide a space with privacy.

3. How much flexibility do we have in adapting the sample schedule?

The site visit team recognizes that each school is unique and that the process needs to be adapted. The team has specific tasks that must be completed during the visit. However, the project manager will work collaboratively with school leadership to create a schedule that minimizes disruptions to the typical school day.

Appendix B: Classroom Visit Guidance

What is the purpose of the classroom visits?

The purpose of classroom visits is threefold:

1. To enable observers to easily identify practices and summarize their evidence base and, therefore, establish ratings that characterize classroom practices across the school;
2. To supply the report writer with quantifiable ratings across classes observed that are supported by documented pieces of evidence; and,
3. To gather qualitative evidence about classroom practices that provides additional evidence to inform the site visit team's capacity levels.

The information collected from classroom visits provides the site visit team an additional source of information that can be used to better understand school practices and to support the team's decisions on capacity levels.

Frequently asked questions about classroom visits

1. How does the site visit team select the classrooms that will be visited?

Classroom visits will be selected by the project manager and/or team members on the basis of the school's master schedule and the size of the site visit team. Representative classes will be selected to reflect a range of teacher experience, a variety of subject areas, the range of grades served at the school, and special services or program classes as they reflect the school's mission. Classroom visits are anonymous; teachers will not know if and/or when the site visit team will visit their classroom.

2. What is the length of a classroom visit?

It is expected that classrooms will be visited for no less than 20 minutes to allow the team to derive an understanding of the lesson and the classroom climate.

3. What do teachers need to do to prepare for the classroom visit?

Teachers need not do anything to prepare for a classroom visit. Classes should reflect a typical experience for students and teachers. The site visit team includes education professionals who understand that behavior in the classroom may be unpredictable. The SRP seeks to establish trends across the school, not to assess isolated incidents within a single classroom.

4. Should teachers expect to interact with the classroom visitor?

The intent of the classroom visit is to cause as minimal disruption to daily classroom practices as possible. Teaching staff do not need to address the classroom visitor or provide an explanation of the lesson. The classroom visitor may walk around the classroom to review student work and/or classroom postings, if appropriate.

5. Do teachers receive feedback from the classroom visitor?

The site visit team seeks to identify trends across the school, not to provide information on the effectiveness of specific classroom practices or individual teachers. Team members will NOT provide feedback to individual teachers. Class visits are NOT teacher evaluations. They will not be shared with individual teachers or any other school personnel. They are intended to provide information to the site visit team about the implementation of the academic program, the availability of resources, and any additional evidence that demonstrates aspects of school practices and operations. The SRP seeks to establish trends across the school, not to assess individual teacher practices.

6. Should the classroom visitor expect to see all of the indicators on the classroom visit tool in a single classroom?

The classroom visit tool is aligned with the indicators that reflect a range of effective practices. It is not expected that the classroom visitor would see all of these indicators. The tool serves as a resource for the site visit team to identify and explain practices that are characteristic of each individual school.

Appendix C: Interview Guidance and Worksheets

During the site visit, a series of interviews and/or focus groups will be conducted to gather information about the school. Interview data, similar to classroom visits, are intended to provide information about the implementation of the school's program and operations. The project manager, with guidance from school leadership, will work to establish a schedule that is appropriate for the school. Depending on the visit, the number and length of interviews conducted varies. The following are examples only.

SCHOOLWIDE INTERVIEWS
Interviews/ focus groups	Description	Approximate Time Needed
School Board (charter schools only)	This interview is conducted with the school's governing body (e.g., the School Board).	1 hour
Authorizing Board (charter schools only)	The interview is conducted with the school's charter authorizing entity (e.g., the Authorizing Board).	1 hour
District Leadership	This interview is conducted with a representative group of the school's oversight body (e.g., district leadership).	1 hour
School Leadership	School leadership includes the principal and key assistants (e.g., assistant principals, curriculum director, lead teachers). In addition to an interview, school leadership may be asked to provide further guidance and insight throughout the visit.	1-hour interview/ focus group (a follow-up may be necessary)
Teacher focus group	Groups of teachers, typically by grade level , make up focus groups. In some cases, the site visit team may request a focus group meeting with teaching assistants, aides, or other personnel to discuss their roles in the delivery of the academic program. The team makes an effort to speak to as many of the school's teaching staff as possible.	30-45 minutes (When possible, scheduled during common preparatory periods.)
Specialist interviews	Interviews with specialists are conducted. School leaders are asked to identify personnel who play a significant role in school functioning (e.g., special education director, ELL coordinator, curriculum coordinators, guidance counselors, other relevant staff).	30-45 minutes
*External Partners (if applicable)	Interviews with external partners, when available, will take place. School leaders are asked to identify partners who play a significant role in school functioning and organize them into one focus group.	30 minutes

*Student focus group	A selection of four to eight students representing a variety of grade levels and varying instructional needs. Students are selected by the school's leadership and/or staff. Students are asked to bring a piece of recent work to share with the focus group leader.	30 minutes
*Family focus group	A representative group of four to eight family members, whose children have a range of academic needs, have attended the school for various lengths of time and who have a range of participation experiences with the school.	30 minutes
Check-out meeting with principal	At the end of Day One, team members will hold a brief check-out meeting with the principal to ask any lingering questions, ensure all relevant documents have been provided, and to answer any questions about next steps.	15 minutes

*Recommended but not required.

What is the purpose of the interview worksheet?

Interview worksheets are provided to:

1. Enable the interviewer to easily identify questions consistent with the criteria and indicators in the SRP site visit protocol, in order to gather appropriate evidence;
2. Ensure uniformity across interviews conducted; and,
3. Provide multiple sources of evidence to support the site visit team's decision on capacity levels.

While on site, the team may develop additional, school-specific interview questions that are based on the team's judgment of what must be learned to come to consensus-based capacity levels on the protocol's key questions.

An interview worksheet exists for each type of focus group (e.g., school leadership, teachers) that the site visit team will interview while on site. Interview questions might be slightly different; interviews conducted with school leadership might include slightly different content than what the team would ask teachers. In addition, question delivery might vary slightly.

How do I use the interview worksheet?

The interview worksheets contain possible interview questions. The column on the left may be used to check the most relevant questions. The right column may be used to insert any additional questions that the site visit team, during team meetings, decides are important to ask in order to gather the required evidence. Interview notes are recorded by the site visit team for use during team deliberations and to provide the report writer with a record of interviews to ensure a sound and accurate evidence base.

Appendix D: State Review Panel Process and Decision-making Framework_____

The State Review Panel (SRP) was created by the Education Accountability Act of 2009 to conduct a critical evaluation of the state's lowest-performing schools and districts. The evaluation is focused on the areas outlined in the Accountability Act:

- Whether leadership is adequate to implement change to improve results;
- Whether the infrastructure is adequate to support school improvement;
- The readiness and capacity of personnel to plan effectively and lead the implementation of appropriate actions to improve student performance;
- The readiness and capacity of personnel to engage productively with an external partner;
- The likelihood of positive returns on state investments; and,
- The necessity to remain in operation to serve students.

The SRP school evaluation process includes a robust document review, as well as an on-site review for schools approaching the end of the accountability clock. As a result of the review, the SRP is charged with recommending an action regarding each school to the Commissioner and the State Board of Education. The actions include: management by a private or public entity other than the district; converting to a charter school; converting to Innovation School status; closure; for charter schools, replacing the current operating entity or Governing Board with a different operating entity or Governing Board.

After the on-site review, the SRP will reconvene to review the body of evidence for each school and come to consensus on recommended action.

SRP Decision-making Framework

The State Review Panel will consider the body of evidence for each school and come to consensus on a recommendation. Given that the State Board Actions are not self-defining, the SRP uses a set of general guidelines to further refine and define what evidence a school must present during the evaluation process, as well as how to evaluate and weigh the various sources of evidence gathered during the evaluation process. In particular, a recommendation will be based on the totality of evidence gathered during the evaluation process. Broadly speaking, the evaluation process seeks to determine where the school stands in relation to the six criteria outlined in the Education Accountability Act.

SRP General Guidelines and Approach

- The SRP will consider the capacity of the leadership and staff in place in the school, as well as early indicators of change, such as the establishment of instructional and operational systems that support student learning and holding all students to high academic and behavioral expectations.
- The SRP will also review evidence from: the school's SRP site visit; the School Performance Framework; the Unified Improvement Plan; and school stakeholder input on preferred actions.

SRP Recommended Actions Overview

1. Innovation School Status

The Innovation Schools Act of 2008 (Article 32.5) establishes a process to waive certain local and state statutory and regulatory rules for public schools to gain autonomies that allow for more flexible and effective practices to meet the needs of students in a school. The SRP may recommend a school for Innovation Status if the document and on-site review indicate that the school is interested in the option and is demonstrably effective in most of the six areas outlined in the Education Accountability Act, particularly with regard to leadership and personnel capacity, and that there are positive early indicators of change, as described above.

2. Management by a private or public entity other than the district

The SRP may recommend a school for management by a private or public entity other than the district if the document and on-site review indicate that the school may be effective in some of the six areas outlined in the Education Accountability Act, but is demonstrably lacking leadership and personnel capacity. In addition, there may be some evidence of positive early indicators of change. The district must be in agreement. For charter schools, this may mean replacing the current operating entity or Governing Board.

3. Conversion to a charter school

A district might convert a district school to a charter school to provide more autonomy and flexibility to a school from statutory and regulatory requirements that may have created obstacles in the past. The SRP may recommend a school for conversion to a charter school if the document and on-site review indicate that the school is not effective in most of the six areas outlined in the Education Accountability Act, is demonstrably lacking leadership and personnel capacity, and shows limited evidence of positive early indicators of change. However, there is a compelling need for the school to remain open to serve students and a charter school may meet the needs of the community.

4. Closure

The SRP may recommend one or more school closure (or multiple schools for closure if the district is on the accountability clock) if the document and on-site review indicate that the school is not effective in most of the six areas outlined in the Education Accountability Act, is demonstrably lacking leadership and personnel capacity, and shows limited evidence of positive early indicators of change. Further, there is not a compelling need for the school to remain open to serve students.

CDE SRP School Stakeholder Input Form

This form should be completed by district leadership and the Governing Board. Please submit the form to Megan Tupa at SchoolWorks (mtupa@schoolworks.org or megantupa@gmail.com) within one week of the site visit. The SRP will take the school's preferences into consideration in making recommendations to the Commissioner and State Board of Education.
